DISASTER AND DEATH.

Crushed Corpses Taken from Under a Wrecked Building.

RESCUE OF A GOLDEN-HAIRED BOY.

A Cyclone's Work at Covington, Ky.—Repair Shop Ruined and a Man Killed.—Wild Panic at the Lateral Race Track.—Remains of Heavy Load of Life in Kentucky.—Franks of the Lightning at Cleveland.—Scene Premium Hall Stems.—Other Disasters.

CHICAGO, June 4.—With a loud crash the frame building at 181 West Jackson street toppled off its foundation yesterday afternoon, burying in the ruins five young men who were crouching under the first floor of the rickety structure. Three of them were instantly killed and the other two badly injured. The dead men were William Schwartz, George Schwartz and John Cahill. The injured are George Shaine and Gus Schwartz. An alarm of fire was turned in and the firemen and police officers, as soon as they arrived, began the work of rescuing the unfortunate men.

One Body Crushed Out of Shape.—When the first floor was removed, John Cahill was found lying on the ground, his right arm being cut off and his entire body crushed out of shape. George Schwartz was found on the side opposite to Cahill, his head smashed in and his right arm crushed off. William Schwartz was found in the center of the floor with his chest smashed in by a heavy timber. Gus Schwartz had his left arm broken and received a cut in the back of the head. George Shaine received a bad cut in the chest.

As the bodies were brought out of the building a woman's wild cry was heard ringing out: "Is my Eddie dead? Oh! tell me, is he dead?" It was Mrs. Schwartz, the wife of Gus Schwartz, searching for her boy. Her husband, bleeding and faint, had been taken by the police to his home, just behind the wrecked house. He had been sent out to bring the boy home. "If my little boy is under the house; he is dead," Gus Schwartz gasped these words to his wife. Then she ran into the street and made frantic appeals to the officers, the fireman and the people to help her to find her child.

Led the Search Herself.—The woman led the search party herself and with a mother's instinct went straight to where her wild cries were answered by a lying little corpse. The golden-haired little fellow was lying on the ground with a heavy beam within an inch of his tiny body. A slight bruise on his right temple showed that he must have been stunned by a falling piece of plank or plaster. The poor mother, after a long and fruitless search, found her child in the arms of the police. She was so overcome with grief at the death of her husband and the death of his brothers in her joy at finding her little son.

CYCLONE AT COVINGTON, KY.

Repair Shop Wrecked and a Man Killed.

CHICAGO, June 4.—A cyclone spread death and destruction in Kentucky yesterday. It also swept through this city, but by the time it reached here its fury was mostly spent. The storm came on at 8 o'clock after a day of sultry calm. It was preceded by a rain of phenomenal violence. It did some damage at the first regiment army and with the League ball park in the west end at Covington, Ky., it raged in the northern part, laying low the trees and out buildings. In the southern vicinity of the city the Chesapeake and Ohio repair shops were directly in its track. With a puff of its mighty breath the storm tore away the iron roof, and then leveled the west wall. Joseph Watt, an employe, was instantly killed.

From the shops the storm took an all line to the Lateral race track. Several thousand people were on the grounds when the storm began. There was a rush from the grand stand, but before the people could get away the wind had torn the chutes and awnings from the club house, had picked up rods of stabling and shook them to pieces, scattering the broken timber through the air with frightful noise. Next it began to tear about the seats in the grand stand. That started a stampede. It was an awful scene. Men crouched and yelled; women, white-faced, shrieked their fear as they clambered toward the earth.

Wires Down and Ugly Storm.—It was some time before the wind was gone, leaving behind a rain the like of which was never seen, and in it were hundreds of dripping women and soaked men. No one was seriously hurt, but scores had to be taken home prostrated. The loss to Lateral is $5,000. The loss on the hundreds of handkerchiefs utterly ruined can not be estimated. The property loss in this vicinity will exceed $50,000. Crops are leveled everywhere. Wires are down south and north, and the ugliest rumors prevail concerning loss of life and property.

Very Seriously Injured.—CHICAGO, June 4.—During a fire in the Shufeldt distillery yesterday William Searing, Herman Longenecker, and Gottfried Brentwein were seriously if not fatally burned.

SHOCKED THE PASSENGERS.

A Street Car Trolley Wrecked by Lightning.—CHICAGO, June 4.—A violent wind and rain storm raged in this city yesterday and was accompanied by extraordinary electrical disturbances. Lightning struck the hotel Winnet and jumped from thence to the trolley wire of an electric street railroad, severely shocking the occupants of a passing car and throwing several of them in a heap toward one end. The machinery of the motor was badly damaged. The great volume of water that fell covered the street and tracks in many localities with wash-outs and traffic was temporarily impeded.

Damaged by Heat.—At City, Ky., a building that measured nine inches in circumference. A passenger coach on the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad had the windows on one side broken. A hole was made in the roof of the engine cab, the headlight was broken and the boiler jacket battered as though with hammers.

Two Men Submerged.

APPLETON, Wis., June 4.—The Pullman passenger mail engine No. 30, carrying a load of 100 tons, was on the way to but were soon overcome by the smoke. In attempting to return they mistook the door leading into the clock room for the outside door. Johnson and Ryan were too exhausted to return, and perished.

Had Been Buried Alive.—ELDON, Ia., June 4.—The exhuming of the remains of Miss Alice Woodward at Douda, Ia., has revealed a startling fact. The young lady's body was found to be lying face down in the coffin, and the appearance of the corpse clearly indicated that a terrible death struggle had occurred in the grave. It is believed the young lady was buried while in a trance.

Accident on the Concord.—WASHINGTON CITY, June 4.—The navy department has received information that a steam pipe exploded on board the United States steamer Concord at Hampton Roads Tuesday. A fireman and a coal passer were killed, and several others badly scalded. No names or particulars are given.

Four Men Badly Scalded.—EMPORIA, Kan., June 4.—A north-bound freight and a south-bound passenger train on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad collided near Hartford, this country. Both engineers, Howlett and Wicks, and the two firemen were badly scalded, but it is not thought fatally.

IOWA'S PEOPLE'S PARTY.

A Full State Ticket Selected and Cincinnati Platform Ratified.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 4.—The first state convention of the People's party since its organization at Cincinnati met at the Grand Opera house yesterday morning. About 500 delegates were present. Ex-Representative J. F. Anderson, of Winnebago county, was chosen temporary chairman. He is the leading Scandinavian politician of northern Iowa, and heretofore has been a Republican. The temporary organization was made permanent. The committee on credentials reported 427 delegates out of the 500 included in the call.

The convention nominated a complete ticket for State offices as follows: Governor, A. J. Westfall; lieutenant governor, Walter Scott; superintendent of schools, C. W. Bean; railway commissioner, D. F. Rogers; judge of the supreme court, T. F. Willis. The platform adopted demands the establishment of the Australian ballot system; favors state reforms, and ratifies the Cincinnati platform.

Things That Are Demanded.—A plank in the platform says: "We demand the action of the twenty-second and twenty-third general assemblies for defeating the Australian ballot bill, for incorporating the contract clause in the miners' screen bill, for the defeat of the 2-cent fare bill, the uniform school book law, and the bill for the taxation of mortgages, all of which measures are inimical to the people of Iowa in their struggle for the eight-hour day, and pledge them our support for needed reforms. We favor a union system of school books furnished by the state at expense to the pupils."

GOT LICKED, BUT WON A BRIDE.

A Bough and Tumble Fight, the Prize Going to the Loser.—HAZLETON, Pa., June 4.—For months past Julia Strowski, a good-looking Slav girl, of Lofly, has been courted by John Paul and Mike Drusko. Bad blood between the men has grown out of their rivalry, and Drusko, who is much larger and heavier than Paul, threatened to kill him if he ever caught him with Julia. Monday night both accidentally met at the girl's home. Drusko made an attack upon Paul, and the girl's father separated them, and said that if Paul loved his daughter he should fight for her to the victor, the victor to take her. Paul agreed to this, and they adjourned to a small plot of ground near the village.

The Girl's Father Refused.—A dispute arose as to who should be the referee. Paul wanted the girl to act in that capacity, but she objected. Her father was finally chosen. No rules of any sort were observed, and in a sudden onslaught Drusko, who is a brute, and who is little but plucky antagonist, almost knocked out. The mother of the girl strongly favored Paul, and each time that he was knocked down she hastened to aid him to regain his feet. The referee begged him to throw up the sponge, saying Drusko would kill him, but he would not, saying he would rather die than live without Julia.

Drusko Betrays His Brutishness.—Drusko determined to knock Paul out, and went at him savagely, knocking him down, and began kicking him furiously in the face. This brutal act seemed to disgust the fair prize, and she threw herself across the fallen man's body, crying out that Drusko was a brute, and that she would never wed him. This enraged Drusko, and he swore that he would kill both, but her father and mother set upon him with stones, and chased him for his life. Just as soon as Paul is presentable he will marry the woman for whom he fought.

Political Ambition Too Costly.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A special to The World from Washington City says: A decided stir has been caused in congressional circles by the announcement that Representative Hilary A. Herbert, of Alabama, will retire from public life upon the expiration of his present term. In speaking of the reasons that have led to this decision Mr. Herbert said that he had arrived at this line of life when he realized that service in congress is a costly graduation of ambition.

Wisconsin World's Fair Committee.—MADISON, Wis., June 4.—Governor Fock yesterday designated World's fair committee. The state legislature has followed: John Winslow, Janesville; August Ledford Smith, Appleton; Hugh H. Price, Black River Falls; Harry Sanderson, Milwaukee; William Rohr, Manitowish; John H. Savage, Shullsburg; Charles W. Graves, Virgo.

Young John Spelman Again.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 4.—John Spelman, the blacksmith, who attempted to carry off a value and was sent from the South on a boat, has been turned over to his father, Edward Spelman, the Peoria (Ill.) distiller, on condition that he be placed in an insane asylum.

SCHWEINFURTH IS NERVOUS.

He Talks to a Mob While It Throws Stones at Him.—Kicked on the Shin.

KANSAS CITY, June 4.—Two hundred men and boys throw stones at the branch heaven here Wednesday night. When Mrs. Ward, keeper of the place and archangel to Schweinfurth, made her appearance the stones came so dangerously near her that she beat a hasty retreat. Then the self-styled "Christ" came out and tried to calm the multitude by pouring oil of consolation on the troubled visitors, but they were not calmed. The stones pelted merrily against the brick wall and dangerously near to Schweinfurth's head, but he remained on the porch and talked. Then a young man ran up the iron stairs and going to the unwarmed Rockford man kicked him sharply on the shin.

Arrival of the Police.

The pretender gave a human yell of pain and ran indoors, where his barked leg was bathed with ointment and scented with myrrh by the good sisters of the house. One of the followers got out of a back door and went to a telephone and called for police protection. Ten minutes later a patrol wagon rolled up with half a dozen blue-coats, and with a farewell pat of rocks the mob dispersed. The police made no arrests, but a guard was maintained for the remainder of the night. Schweinfurth declares that he shall remain here for months if he wishes.

THE ITATA SURRENDERS.

United States Vessels Have Possession of the River at Esquivas.

ESQUIVAS, Chila, June 4.—Word was received Wednesday that the Itata had arrived at Tocopilla. The insurgent authorities at once sent word to the commander to lose no time in coming to this port. An avocation awaits her. It is thought that the arms and ammunition will be left behind at Tocopilla.

The Itata Surrenders.

ESQUIVAS, Chila, June 4.—The steamer Itata arrived here early Thursday and was at once surrendered to the American men-of-war in this harbor. It is expected that the United States warship Charleston will arrive here soon.

TURNED THE HOSE ON THEM.

Objectionable Parties Literally Washed Out of Their House.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 4.—The town of Ashly, forty miles north of Columbus, on the Big Four road, adopted a novel but effective means of reform. A white family and a colored family have given offense to the good people of the town by living together in the same house, the place being a sort of bad characters, and they were given to understand that they had better leave town, but the objectionable people remained. At midnight forty masked citizens seized a fire engine and, drawing it up in front of the house of ill-repute, turned on the hose and literally washed the rascals, along with their furniture, out of the place. The weatherboarding of the old house was well nigh demolished by the force of the stream.

The Terrifying Explosion.

TARTSTOWN, N. Y., June 4.—The coroner's jury investigating the recent explosion here by which eight men were instantly killed, have returned a verdict to the effect that the victims died from concussion of the brain received from a dynamite explosion on May 20, and caused by Foreman James W. Travis, conductor John O'Connor, and Edward Finnegan, the assistant foreman, now dead, and the president and board of directors the New York Central and Hudson River road for allowing explosives to be carried in a careless manner.

Forced to the Wall.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Russell & Co., of Chicago, with offices at 60 Wall street and 107 Grand street, this city, and London, have suspended. The firm did a general import and export business, the head of the establishment being in Hong Kong, China. They dealt largely in oil and cotton, which they shipped to China, sending back silks and teas. The present result has been expected for some time in the trade.

Killed His Wife While Drunk.

LIMA, Ohio, June 4.—At Scott, a village on the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw railroad, Emerson MoneySmith, a restaurant keeper, shot and killed his wife, and then, checking at the door, turned to the unfortunate woman. The two little children of the couple witnessed the tragedy. MoneySmith, who was immediately arrested, was very drunk. This is the only reason known for the crime.

A Little Difference in Figures.

RICHMOND, Va., June 4.—The conference between the state debt commission and the bondholders' committee terminated Thursday. Both sides refuse to make any statement. It is understood that the commission has offered the terms they desired, but that the two bodies are about $5,000,000 apart in their figures. The committee return to New York for another conference with the bondholders.

Bobbled His Employers.

OMAHA, Neb., June 4.—John M. Campbell, cashier of the Consolidated Oil Tank line, the western branch of the Standard Oil company, has been dismissed from his position and turned over to his surety as a defaulter. The company alleges that Campbell confessed to the embezzlement of $5,000 after being detected. Other irregularities are looked for.

WINCHESTERS UNSLUNG.

Strikers and Imported Colored Men Have a Showdown.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, June 4.—The first actual hostilities of the miners' strike in Iowa took place at an early hour Wednesday morning, when a collision occurred between the strikers and imported colored miners at Mystic. A meeting of the strikers was called at Mystic Tuesday evening and it lasted until after midnight. The proceedings were very heated. There was an element which favored an attempt to force the colored men away, but the majority of those in attendance urged upon their more turbulent brothers the necessity of observing the law.

Nobody Gets Hurt.

After the close of the meeting a few of the disorderly spirits who had been convinced against their will determined to attack the colored men, and proceeded in a body to the Crown Hill miners' drift, half a mile distant. The pickets who were on guard apprised the men of the proposed attack as soon as the first rioters were seen appearing. The advancing mob made one rush at the mine, firing a few scattered shots as they came on. The colored men were in the frame building over the shaft, and from their place of vantage fired a volley at their assailants. Finding that they could not surprise the mine the rioters fell back and retired to town.

FATAL STORM IN KENTUCKY.

Several Persons Killed and Much Property Destroyed.

ASHLAND, Ky., June 4.—A violent wind storm struck this city a few minutes after 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, lasting fully thirty minutes. No houses were demolished, but many trees were blown down and broken off. Two iron staves were overturned on the Ashland fire brick yards. Three men in a skiff were seen to capsize in the river, and they have not yet been found. At Augusta, trees were uprooted and houses were unroofed. At Fairmount, the immense barn of Farnham was blown down, and Miss Nannie, his 16-year-old daughter, who was in it, was killed.

Great Damage at Covington.

The roof was taken from the shops of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and part of the walls of the building blown in. Eighty men were at work in the place at the time, and when the crash came they fled in confusion. One of the men, James D. Watts, was struck by a falling beam, which fractured his skull, instantly killing him.

Peculiar Accident to a Hostler.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Pleasant Scott, a hostler employed by J. D. Hayes, a dairyman, at 384 West Adams street, met with a peculiar accident Wednesday night. He was in the hay-mow and was pushing a quantity of hay down a narrow chute which reaches the mangers below, when he slipped and fell head foremost through the opening. The chute is not more than eighteen inches wide and Scott was unable to turn himself. As a result he was compelled to stand on his head in the manger for almost two hours, until discovered by a fellow employe. He was wedged so tightly in the opening that it was necessary to cut the chute open in order to release him. When taken out he was delirious.

Bees Stop Railway Traffic.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., June 4.—The unique spectacle of a swarm of bees stopping traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad was witnessed forty miles west of here Wednesday. As a freight train was passing the farm of Kennedy J. Myron a large colony of bees suddenly left their hive and flew straight into the cab of the engine. The bees swarmed on the cab roof inside and formed a bunch as large as a bushel. The engineer stopped the train, and with his fireman surrendered the engine to the intruders. A long line of west-bound freight trains was held up for some time until the owner of the bees came and removed his property.

ROCKFORD, Me., June 4.—Sheriff Reed of Bangor, came here Thursday and arrested Albert Cowen, of Dover, on the charge of abducting and running away with the wife of his brother, Arthur Cowan. Albert and Arthur are twins, and two weeks ago Arthur married a Portland girl and brought her here on live. On Monday Albert, who has had never seen before, came in his brother's absence and asked her to take a trip to Portland. Supposing him to be her husband, she consented and they went away together. As soon as Arthur learned the facts he swore out a warrant against his brother.

News Notes of Interest from Washington City.

STEAMSHIP COMPANIES WARNED.

The Treasury Department Lays Down the Law in Regard to Restricting Immigration.—Commissioner Baum Not Likely to Leave the Pension Office at Present.—Secretary Rusk to Visit Western States Where Meats Are Packed and Shipped.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 4.—The plan prepared by Assistant Secretary Nettleton for restricting poorer immigration into the United States has been submitted to the president and approved, and was Wednesday embodied in a circular letter, and sent to all steamship companies bringing emigrants to this country. The circular, after reciting the laws designed to regulate immigration, says: "The evident disposition of many steamship lines to gather up in Europe and bring to the United States all who, with or without the aid of others, can pay the now trifling cost of a steerage passage, regardless of their character or condition, and regardless of our laws, compels on the part of government a closer scrutiny, and the adoption of more comprehensive measures than have hitherto seemed necessary."

No Desire To Be Harsh.

"While it is the purpose of the government to enforce these statutes in their letter and spirit at every port of the United States and along the international boundaries, it is desired that as little discomfort and distress as possible result to persons affected by the immigration laws. With this view it is important that persons of the prohibited classes be prevented from leaving their homes and crossing the sea only to be sent back on their arrival here. It is wrong that other the greed of some steamship companies, the mistaken kindness of friends, or the wish of many foreign communities to be rid of burdens properly theirs, should be permitted to result in this useless cruelty."

Points for the Companies.

"So far as possible the sifting process should be applied at the beginning, not at the end of the long journey. Much of this whole preventive work can be effectively done by the transportation companies, directly and through their local inland agents in Europe, and these companies should be aware that their own pecuniary interests, not less than the cause of humanity, will be best served in this way. The attention of steamship and other transportation companies is particularly directed to the provision of law now in force excluding persons likely to become a public charge. Doubtful cases should be excluded from the passenger lists."

Will Be Rigidly Enforced.

"Inasmuch as some steamship lines, in order to increase their carrying capacity have recently disregarded the provisions of the laws of the United States requiring of a certain allowance of cubic air space for each steerage passenger, notice is hereby given that hereafter more thorough inspections will be made of all steamships engaged in bringing immigrants to the United States ports and penalty for violation of the law in this respect will be rigidly enforced. In order to promote the objects of the immigration laws of the United States and avoid unnecessary hardships to aliens whom our laws exclude, the secretary of the treasury invites the co-operation of the several steamship lines to all other interested parties, in carrying out a system of foreign inquiry that will facilitate the work of the government officers."

A Duty of the Companies.

"It is the duty of each transportation company engaged in bringing aliens to the United States to diligently inquire whether any person applying for passage probably comes within the prohibited classes, and rigidly to exclude all such persons. The measure suggested is not designed to take the place of the inspection by the regular United States officials at the several ports of arrival, but is to be preliminary to and in aid of such inspection."

RAUM AND THE PENSION OFFICE.

The Commissioner Not Responsible for the Recommendations of His Board.—WASHINGTON CITY, June 4.—It is not at all likely that Pension Commissioner Raum will be asked to resign or that he will tender his resignation voluntarily. Enough inquiry has been made by the secretary of the interior and others directly interested in the administration of the pension office to satisfy them that Commissioner Raum was not responsible for any of the shortcomings of his son, and that he made no mistake in his son's case, and he was finally charged with peculations in office.

The Administration's View.

The president does not find anything in the official movements of Commissioner Raum to show his connection with the fraudulent practices of some of his subordinates. The highest confidence is placed by the president in Gen. Raum's integrity and the recent outcry made upon the commissioner is regarded in official circles as due directly to a growing prejudice in certain quarters against pensions. This is the view which the administration will take of the subject.

Will Attend to It Personally.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 4.—Secretary Rusk will leave Washington the latter part of this week for Chicago and will extend his visit to other western cities. He goes west in order to be present in the large cities where meats are packed and shipped at the time of the inauguration of the new regulations concerning the inspection of meats under the best meat inspection law. This is the act of March 3, 1891, which makes strict regulations for the inspection of live stock, dressed meats and salted meats for export and interstate commerce. Secretary Rusk takes a lively interest in the subject and wants to give his personal attention to the matter.

LOTS OF FOOLS.

The professors on South Water have delivered themselves of an editorial on "Free Trade Ignorance." In the course of the scolding remarks it is incidentally mentioned that all those who do not allow a republican bureau at Washington to do their thinking are every variety of fool, classed and unclassified. And to show what fools men may become the following awful statement introduces the article: "The free traders as a class actually believe that a protective tariff operates as a tax upon the consumer."

That settles it. If you are suspected of believing anything of that kind you will be put on trial for political heresy, but you will be allowed to plead non compos mentis. Thank you, kind and wise gentlemen, for giving us that chance for our lives. Your generosity shall never be forgotten. You have a corner on virtue and intelligence, but you will permit the rest of the world to be saved by the grace of fortune association.

But why have these wise men been so kind to us? They might have told us to avast, but they content themselves with saying that we are fools. And when The Rap uses the term free trader it means everybody who is not a republican and willing to bow down before any demand Quay and Clarkson can make. You have got to be a machine patriot yelping for the old flag and an appropriation to escape being called an idiotic free trader by the gosh almighty regulators of all things who sweat and think on South Water.

We only wish to remark now that these fools have some company that was once regarded as the elect of the faithful. Gen Grant in his message of 1875 asked that some duties be remitted. While on this subject he says: "I would mention those articles which enter into manufactures of all sorts. All duty paid on such articles goes directly to the cost of the article when manufactured here, and must be paid for by the consumers."

Grant was not a free trader, and yet he thought that a tariff was a tax upon the consumer. How could Grant say such things? He could not foresee that the exigency of the case of the patriots in 1891 would make it necessary to call men who believed as he wrote fools.

And then there was Emory A. Storrs, a distinguished republican who lived in Chicago some years ago. He once wrote a word to say of the tariff, "Finally, what is a tariff? It is a tax. It is nothing less and nothing but a tax. It is a tax which we do not pay to the government; for where protection begins revenue ceases. The consumer is impoverished, the government is not aided."

Gen Storrs was Emory A. Storrs and idiot. He did not suffer on account of such a reputation. There is a notion in this part of the country that he was one of the most brilliant men the state of Illinois ever produced. We will stand by Storrs in preference to the hired thinking shop the republican party keeps at Washington for the instruction and enlightenment of republican editors who have such a penchant for calling other people fools.

And John A. Logan, of Illinois, made a speech in the house sometime in 1870. He was talking of the protection given the manufacturers of iron, such patriotic virtues as Carnegie Logan said "And then there are the men in the Northwest who produce corn, wheat, oats, pork and beans, etc. They are producers and consumers, and are not protected; and it is they who pay this large amount of money into the pockets of the manufacturers of this article."

Was John A. Logan a fool? History shows that he sized the thing up just about right. Who buys hunting forests in Scotland? Who presents New York with music halls? Not the farmer of the Northwest, not the man who has been laboring for a lifetime and has not yet saved enough to buy himself a coffin, not the man who can't afford to die. The spread eagle ostentation is the work of the man from whom republican laws compel us to buy iron. It looks as if Logan spoke the truth.

And yet what a fool he was, judged by the standard which The Rap lays down! And there would be no difficulty in going over the list and finding 100 of the foremost leaders of the republican party who have said that the consumer pays the tax. But it is the big man of the party you will find talking in that way. Men who think for themselves. They are not patrons of the campaign bureau. They may have been screaming idiots but the republican party did not find it out until by death they lost a vote. Such men lead the republican party all the lustre and glory it ever had. The party is today trading on that glory. Those men may have been fools but they never made an appeal to the people that fell as flat as the one Reed and McKinley made last fall.

The notion that the tariff is not a tax is a very new one, even among republicans. The majority of them today will have nothing to do with such a notion. It is generally found only among those who fear a goal to have their thinking done for them. The notion thrives only among the bureau-alongside the Wash railroad to the north-east corner of the park.

There is objection to this scheme. It makes it much harder to get to the park. The proposed road will run alongside the Wash railroad for several hundred feet. Trains are going back and forth there nearly all the time. Now the time will soon come when hundreds of our people will want to drive out to the park. And some of the driving will be done by ladies and children. We are not looking out for their safety if we make a change to send them alongside a stretch of railroad track.
As the roads are now arranged, the danger of frightening horses by the Wash locomotives is reduced to a minimum in going to the park. There is only the St. Louis branch to be crossed. But if the proposed change is made you will have a railroad for company during a good part of the drive from here to the park. Our citizens certainly do not want such a change.
The highway commissioners will be at Fairview park at 2 o'clock this afternoon to consult with citizens about this matter. If you can make it convenient to do so you had better go out and get the lay of affairs. And then you can make your talk to the commissioners.
There has been something said about extending Eldorado street through to the park if that was done all would be well. But it is the safer plan to hold on to the road we now have until the extension of Eldorado street is assured.

SOMEbody sent a dispatch to The Bloomington Pantagraph saying that the election of Mr. Shellabarger in this city, last Tuesday, was a republican victory. That was news to the people of this town. The republicans could make a nomination and elect their man, but we were not aware that they chose to do so last Tuesday. If there was anything of the kind going on it is too bad some one did not whisper the game to the democrats. If both sides had been put on to the racket we would have had a great deal more fun.
As it was, there was no democrat in the race. The Bloomington Pantagraph credited Mr. Outen to our side when in fact that gentleman thinks the democrats are worse than the republicans if such a thing is possible.

The democrats do not object seriously to being beaten now and then, but they would like to be given notice to be present when the performances begin. And they are generally on hand at such a time. The man who writes for The Pantagraph had better make arrangements for the paper not to circulate in our town. Such stories as the one that went out Tuesday night ought to be sent far enough away to insure against their return.

THE MARKETS.
CHICAGO, June 4.—The wheat market opened with little animation at 98 1/2% for July, an advance of about 1/2% from yesterday's close. Crops reports continued to be good, with some little damage by insects in this state. Cables are firm, but the bush measure is light. The sharp advance to 99 1/2% was caused by the sellers on the decline becoming alarmed at a report that 500,000 bu had been sold in Duluth for export and 60,000 bu taken here. The demand for cash wheat continues, and with our light stocks and the interior millers waiting on the new, with poor prospects all over the continent of Europe we can only recommend purchases on all weak markets. We have had a steady bullish sentiment for some days past, and succeeded in getting a decline of 2c, say from 99 1/2% to 97 1/2%, and the decline is about all recovered in 14 1/2-cent minutes, shows the tone and strength of the market.

Corn opened about the closing price of yesterday, sold off to 55 1/2% on vigorous selling by one of the old bull party who was as vigorous a buyer at the top, say 57 1/2%. However, the sell order was not so large as the one that had been expected, and unless this changes prices will go higher.
Not much doing in oats. All accounts of the growing crop are bad.
Provisions, in sympathy with corn, hold their own. P. C. Lusk & Co.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

The Handsome Interior of the English Lutheran Building.

Three handsome church buildings will be dedicated in Decatur this summer. Two are the new ones now building, which have been frequently mentioned. The third is the English Lutheran at the corner of William and North Main streets. The fact that Architect R. O. Rosen had been engaged to superintend the work of finishing the interior was printed some time ago. Work has so far progressed now that the date for dedication can be set, and the first Sunday in July has been chosen. A fine musical program by musicians from Chicago and St. Louis will be a part of the services.

Carpenters, painters, steam fitters and other mechanics have been busy for several weeks, now, and the inside of the building begins to look as handsome and complete as any of the churches now in the city.

When finished the English Lutherans will have a building of which they may be proud. The work is in light, most of it in natural oak. That is the material to be used in the construction of the pulpit, pews, chairs and other furniture. The choir loft is at one side of the pulpit. Handsome stained glass windows are to be put in, with electric lights and steam heat.

New Officers.
Cœur de Lion lodge, No. 17, K. of P., elected officers last night for the ensuing year as follows:

C. O. F. F. Damrow.
V. C.—T. V. Jones.
Prelate—W. P. Shade.
M. of E.—Frank M. Patterson.
M. of F.—M. Hedlbrun.
K. of R. and S.—E. W. Wismer.
M. of A. & Joe Weigand.
Representative—W. P. Shade, Alternate—W. T. Dillehunt.

The rank of page was conferred on W. L. Whitney.

The lodge adjourned in a body to A. J. Wood's, and had all the delicacies of the season. Quite an elaborate banquet was served, for the short notice, and a pleasant finishing touch put to what is believed to have been a good night's work for the lodge.

The Hotel.
The St. Nicholas hotel is now reduced as much as it can be. The part to be torn away is down to the first floor. The hotel is in three different buildings now, the dining room part, the part over the billiard room, and the building formerly occupied by the Starr harness factory. An elevator has been put between the two hotel buildings, to illuminate up the causeway that connects the two houses. The hotel business does not seem to suffer much. The transient business is almost as large as usual. The lodgers are all well cared for. Some are crowded occasionally, but they all take it good humoredly.

Will Raise $2,000.
At a called meeting of the Industrial and Charitable union last evening twelve ladies were appointed to canvass the city for the purpose of raising $2,000 to pay the debt on the Industrial Home for women and children, and to meet all expenses of the union for this financial year. The thanks of the union was extended to Mrs. Hamilton for $7.40 silver dollars the outfit proceeds of her sister wedding anniversary entertainment. The next meeting of the union will be held Tuesday morning at the Home.

Goodwin, of Decatur, Judge W. J. Allen, of Springfield, Henry Stryker, Jr., of Jacksonville; against confirmation, Rev. F. W. Taylor, of Springfield, Rev. D. W. Dresser, of Champaign, Charles L. Hay, of Springfield.

Frozen Up.
The specialty company that has been playing at Oakland park came in last night to keep from being frozen. The sun of popularity has been shining on them indifferently since their season began. Now that the temperature of the atmosphere has turned against them, it is feared that their season has been brought to a sudden and untimely close.

The place of lecture has been changed from the church to the W. C. T. U. rooms. The lecture will be upon "Rome," and will be delivered in English.

Husband and Wife.
Have more than once been saved by the timely use of Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, after all other remedies have been tried in vain. The balsam stops decay of the lungs and cures influenza, acute and chronic coughs. There is no other medicine in the world that acts so promptly, certainly none that does its work so thoroughly as Kemp's Balsam. All druggists sell it. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

THE SYNDICATE'S PLANS.

Patterson & Stine to Furnish Them—The Meeting Last Night.

The syndicate that is to put up the new building on North Main street, met last night and decided on the design. Five architects presented pencil sketches of designs. They were, R. L. Dickinson, Patterson & Stine, McNabb & Son, R. O. Rosen and the Star Mills company of Jacksonville. After considering the different designs until almost 11 o'clock, the one presented by Patterson and Stine was finally selected.

The design provides for a five story structure with a Romanesque front, all of stone, with the exception a two flat bays, which are to be of iron. Blue stone like that in the Presbyterian church is to be used.

The front is a very handsome one, principally on account of its simplicity and plainness. The building will cost from $60,000 to $70,000. The interior will be finished up as wanted for use. Work will begin on it as soon as the plans can be gotten ready, which will be in a week or 10 days.

The new building will be the property of Mrs. W. J. and Cass Chenoweth, T. A. Pritchett, F. Mattes, Lyon & Armstrong, and Fred Norman.

The deceased was raised, and has always been a member of the German Lutheran church. The funeral will take place today at the residence of her son, George Zeuss, in Moultrie county. The deceased leaves two sons, George Zeuss, of Herry City, and Leopold Zeuss, of Friend, Col.

Is It a Case of Desertion?
On last Saturday evening there was a quiet wedding in this city, and to all appearances all was well. The contracting parties are both residents of this city and well known. As remarked above there was no indication but that the young couple was supremely happy and contented with each other's love. On the following morning the groom left on the Edinburg excursion to Springfield, and up until last night nothing had been heard of his whereabouts. His young wife has become alarmed at his singular conduct, and fears are entertained that he has deserted her. His conduct is certainly very queer and especially so when it is considered that no tangible reason is known for his going away so suddenly. We trust that all will come out right and that he will return to cheer up the young lady whom he swore to love, honor and protect.

A Great Story.
The story below has a very queer sound. It is a special dispatch from New Holland, Ill., and one cannot help thinking that New Holland must have some very accomplished liars:

"During the storm Tuesday night lightning struck a wire fence on the farm of Mrs. Mary White, living two miles and a quarter east of town, killing 17 head of cattle that were near by. Seventeen head were together. Others were found dead as far as a quarter of a mile away. With the exception of three yearlings they were all two years old and over. The stock was valued at $750; no insurance. It was seven years ago that Mrs. White lost 34 head of fat cattle by the same."

Strawberries Going.
The main part of the strawberry crop was exhausted before the rain came. It will not help the berries much now. The southern fields will be exhausted in a day or two, and then the berries will come from the north. This has been a good year, on the whole.
